TECHNICAL DISCUSSIONS:

Bob Fields showed his Mini-Ductor and ran a demo video on its use. It is used to heat up rusty nuts and bolts to break them free without having to use an open flame. The one he has is made by a company named VENOM and the item costs $300.00 .

Nick Mazarella asked about a local source for interior materials. Both Bill Johnson and Alan Petrik bought items from a company called Keyston Bros (formerly DTL) in Warrenville. Bill did his upholstery, and Alan constructed his trunk from materials acquired at Keyston. Alan will send Nick contact information.
